2024 Summit

AT THE DISTRICT

PMI SUMMIT
AUGUST 6, 2024

WELCOME.

Thank you for attending the 2024 Sioux Empire PMI Summit!

This day is a peak experience for our organization. We work tirelessly throughout the year to assemble a conference worthy of your time. Though we aim to make the event enjoyable, we take our responsibility of bringing you a first-rate learning experience very seriously. With this in mind, we have put together what we think is our most impressive affair yet. We hope you agree!

We have assembled an energetic collection of speakers with the goal of providing you with the tools and skills to excel in project management best practices so you can continue to drive and promote positive change within your respective organizations and communities. We are confident you will enjoy these outstanding speakers and what they have to share! During today's event we encourage you to introduce yourself to new people, say hello to old friends and colleagues, in an effort to forge greater connections both personally and professionally. Project Management is a unique niche within or organizations and communities and knowing you have others that you can lean into both today and in the future is a tremendous gift.

As we step into today's event, we once again thank you for taking the time to join us. We could not be more pleased to have you here . . . so sit back, relax, learn and enjoy!

RICHARD LEFEVRE

Richard Lefevre has been engaged in project management for 17 years, predominantly within the medical industry and neurosurgery, collaborating with teams from Mexico, Brazil, Germany, Canada, Japan, and China. Some of his early project management efforts have been captured in medical publications currently used to improve surgical outcomes around the world. He currently holds the position of Enterprise Project Management Director at Eide Bailly LLP., aligning his EPMO with his corporate team's strategies.

Mr. Lefevre was a collegiate honors athlete in the PAC-10, playing rugby for three years and serving as team captain for the final two. He applies an athletic approach to project management leadership, effectively organizing his teams to achieve goals, manage challenges, and leverage opportunities. Beyond his professional commitments, he is a dedicated health enthusiast. His passion for fitness and nutrition is integral to his professional life, with the discipline and determination honed over 25 years in this pursuit seamlessly integrated into his guidance of project management professionals. He recently served as the Vice President of Programs for PMI's Sioux Empire Chapter, where he discovered a passion for contributing to the project management profession.

Mr. Lefevre relocated to Phoenix, Arizona, in the early 1990s after spending his first 13 years in Misawa, Japan, where his father served in the United States Army. In 2017, he moved to the Midwest, where he has led projects involving mergers and acquisitions, software development, federal and local government programs, and COVID-19 related efforts. In his leisure time, Richard enjoys engaging in physical activities and frequently travels to coastal destinations worldwide for cultural enrichment, relaxation, and music.

The EMOTION OF CHANGE

Emotional health requires understanding what one is feeling, thinking, and doing and how they are connected; it takes practice and awareness. How does change impact you? Your position on change will influence your response to this question. Suppose you are leading or embracing the change. In that case, your answer will differ from someone experiencing unwelcome or forced change. In this session, we will delve into the emotions associated with change and offer valuable tools for managing emotions (yours and others') during periods of change.

MEET THE PANELISTS

TERRY LIGGINS

Terry Liggins has been a practitioner of Diversity, Equity, Inclusion and Justice (DEIJ) principles and a developer of DEIJ programs since 2005. Terry's cross-cultural immersion experience began as a first-generation college student-athlete enrolled in predominately white institution in rural Vermillion, South Dakota. Born in North Omaha, Nebraska, he was raised by a single mom of six where his childhood was saturated with adversity and chaos, drugs and violence, and gangs and trauma. Terry is recognized for partnering with startup nonprofits, corporations, charitable groups, and advocacy efforts that help to advance a healing-informed society that is inclusive and equitable in all its practices. Liggins is proud to be the Founder and CEO at TLC Services and Hurdle Life Coach Foundation.

MARCELLA PROKOP

Marcella Prokop is an award-winning writer and educator who is passionate about helping people find their voice and tell their stories. She has facilitated discussions about linguistic diversity in higher education, the power of mentorship in digital spaces, and what it means to re-shape one's narrative. Marcella serves students regionally as the Director of Access and Workforce Opportunity at Southeast Technical College, where she helps guide inclusion initiatives and offers a mentorship program for first-generation college students. Along with her partner Sean, she owns and operates Blackshire Farms and Cider just outside of Sioux Falls.

SPEAKER SESSION | 2:30 PM

MEET THE PANELISTS

KRISTINA SCHAEFER

Kristina Schaefer serves as General Counsel, Chief Risk Officer and Chief Administrative Officer for First Bank & Trust. In her role, Kristina serves as the primary legal resource for the organization and oversees the risk management and human resources functions. Schaefer currently is a member of the ABA's Government Relations Council, BankPAC Committee, and DEI Advisory Council. Schaefer regularly coaches Girls on the Run, serves on several nonprofit Board of Directors, and volunteers as a mentor for several local programs. Kristina subsequently achieved the professional designations of Certified Regulatory Compliance Manager (CRCM) and Certified Enterprise Risk Professional (CERP).

KADYN WITTMAN

With over a decade of dedicated service in South Dakota's non-profit sector, Kady has honed a diverse skill set and gained extensive experience in community advocacy and service provision. From leading statewide initiatives for the LGBTQ+ community to providing tailored support for Sioux Falls' homeless population, she has consistently shown her commitment to marginalized groups. As a current State Legislator, Kady also brings valuable legislative experience, enhancing our state's capacity to drive positive change and advocate for underserved communities.
